Agiloft's unique no-code AI-powered platform quickly adapts as your business and sourcing needs evolve.

Improve Decision Making

Speed RFX to Contract

Automate Supplier Information Management

“96% of Sourcing and Procurement leaders say staff will have to significantly improve their effectiveness at using digital technology to improve in their role.”

—Gartner

Streamline the source-to-contract process by centralizing the RFX to Contract cycle for improved collaboration and decision making:

- Review existing contracts for pre-approved RFX language – all in one place
- Invite suppliers to submit proposals, quickly collect and collaborate around the submission
- Allow stakeholders to appraise, score, and compare suppliers for their projects, all online
- Convert awards into contracts with the click of a button, using approved terms and conditions.

Automate supplier information management to save time and ensure suppliers meet all your business requirements:

- Allow prospective suppliers to register and provide data and documents through a vendor portal.
- Gather responses to custom questionnaires on security, diversity, and other business criteria.
- Compile data to verify compliance with business criteria and policies.
- Prequalify, approve, and automate supplier contract notifications and requests for documentation.

Turn Opportunities into Savings

Adapt as Needs Evolve

Access our unified source-to-contract CLM platform, turn opportunities into savings, and quickly adapt as your business needs change:

- Gain visibility into the full spectrum of supplier relationships and contracts across geographies, departments, and business units
- View terms and pricing to identify areas for simplification and volume discounts.
- Create reports and get alerts for upcoming expirations; identify a pipeline of new sourcing opportunities.
- Provide users with a unified sourcing and contracting user experience
- Configure the Agiloft no-code AI-powered CLM to precisely fit and quickly adapt to your needs.
